Ashleigh Davis

Research Assistant

Ashleigh Davis, of ICF International, provides research assistance to the Task Force research team. A 2009 graduate of the North Carolina State University, she majored in international politics and Spanish language. Ms. Davis' history with the armed forces is longstanding, with a career military father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, and a brother serving in the Air National Guard. Ms. Davis grew up in military communities throughout the continental United States and abroad. She has attended numerous base events and understands the stresses of family deployments and homecomings.
